

The German navy
—the whole flotilla at anchor
in Kiel
harbor.
Kadel & Herbert.

The Misses Rosa-
mond and Catherine Farrell, daughters of James Farrell,
President of the U. S.
Steel Corporation,
snapped on pleasure trip to England.

Above—Living
symbols of America resting
in the shadow of the national emblem. Two American eagles
on the deck of
the U. S. S. Saturn, anchored
off the coast of Alaska.
Pacific & Atlantic.

Above—Over the top by the aid of
radio—a tank demonstration at Washington in which an officer in one machine directed the
maneuvers of the rest. Pacific & Atlantic.

At Right—Miss
Catherine Radcliffe, niece of Lord Glanely of London,
who will be presented to Washington society this season by Admiral
and Mrs. John K.
Robinson.
Harris & Ewing.

The Sulgrave Institute's gifts to the American nation. The upper photo shows a general view of the ceremonies attending the unveiling of a statue of Edmund Burke in Washington. Left to right in the lower photo are Elihu Root, Sir Charles Wakefield, Miss Freda Wakefield, Dr. C. R. Stetson, D. D., rector of Trinity Church; Lady Wakefield, Mrs. Robert Goeller and Samuel Gompers at the unveiling of a bust of Viscount James Bryce in Trinity Church, New York.

"Going to Jerusalem" in couples on horseback— one of the spills in the elimination game at the gymkhana given by the Fairfield Polo Club on the estate of E. Y. Clausen, Port Chester.

Fotograms.